

PEAK TO PRAIRIE BRANDING & STAMPING

BRANDING VS STAMPING

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

At Peak to Prairie, we offer two unique ways to personalize your gear: branding and stamping. Branding uses traditional hot iron brands to sear designs into leather, hats, belts, or even wood—leaving a bold, permanent mark with a rustic, Western character.

Stamping, on the other hand, is done on wet leather using hand tools to press intricate designs and lettering into the surface—resulting in a detailed, textured impression that highlights craftsmanship and artistry.

Both techniques celebrate the spirit of the West—choose your style and make it yours!

WHY CHOOSE US?

PASSION & WESTERN HISTORY

At Peak to Prairie, we're more than just branding and stamping—we're creating a unique, hands-on experience rooted in the spirit of the West. We adore our Western heritage and take pride in sharing a piece of Colorado's rich history with every guest. For over 35 years, we've been delivering over-the-top service across the country, and Peak to Prairie Branding is our latest way of bringing that passion to life. Whether it's a hot iron brand or a hand-tooled leather stamp, every detail is designed to leave a lasting impression and a meaningful memory.
